Media and Information Literacy

Quarter 1 – Module 8

Legal, Ethical, and Societal Issues in Media and Information

Introductory Message

For the facilitator:

Welcome to the Media and Information Literacy Self-Learning Module on Legal, Ethical, and Societal Issues in Media and Information.

This module was collaboratively designed, developed and reviewed by educators both from public and private institutions to assist you, the teacher or facilitator in helping the learners meet the standards set by the K to 12 Curriculum while overcoming their personal, social, and economic constraints in schooling.

This learning resource hopes to engage the learners into guided and independent learning activities at their own pace and time. Furthermore, this also aims to help learners acquire the needed 21st century skills while taking into consideration their needs and circumstances.

In addition to the material in the main text, you will also see this box in the body of the module:

Notes to the Teacher

This contains helpful tips or strategies that will help you in guiding the learners.

As a facilitator, you are expected to orient the learners on how to use this module. You also need to keep track of the learners' progress while allowing them to manage their own learning. Furthermore, you are expected to encourage and assist the learners as they do the tasks included in the module.

For the learner:

Welcome to the Media and Information Literacy Self-Learning Module on Legal, Ethical, and Societal Issues in Media and Information.

This module was designed to provide you with fun and meaningful opportunities for guided and independent learning at your own pace and time. You will be enabled to process the contents of the learning resource while being an active learner.

INTRODUCTION

Information and media literacy (IML) enables people to show and make informed judgments as users of information and media. Basically, media literacy helps students become wiser consumers of media as well as responsible producers of their own media. In a larger context, the ethical use of media is each person's responsibility whether one is a student or a professional. Proper use of media can make you a better, well-informed individual, but can also enable you to create a change in the world.

In this module, you will learn on different legal, ethical, and societal issues in media and information. Specifically, you will know how to put into practice the knowledge in intellectual property, copyright and fair use. You will also encourage to create a campaign add to combat digital divide, addiction, and bullying.

PRESENTATION OF THE NEW MODULE

With the existence of the new media, everyone is at liberty contributed and post information online. The problem with this evolutionary form of media is the lack of check and balance that traditional media requires. Often, those who post their opinions are taken as facts that may sometimes result of defamation. With this different case all over the world. Such a problem reiterates the need for responsible use of social media information.

With current provision in the law help in ensuring everyone's right to privacy. However, it is important to note that self-discretion goes a long way in protecting one's privacy.

ABSTRACTION

REPUBLIC ACT NO. 10175

Cybercrime Prevention Act of 2012

- It is a law in the Philippines approved on September 12, 2012 with main purpose to address legal issues concerning online interactions and the Internet
- Cybercrime offenses are the following: cybersquatting, cybersex, child pornography, identity theft, illegal access to data and libel.

CYBER means connecting to, or relating computers or computer networks (such as the Internet) CYBERSPACE denotes to the virtual computer world and it is an electronic medium used to make a global computer network to enable online communication CYBERCRIME denotes to the criminal happenings carried out by means of computers or the Internet CYBERBULLYING is the use of electronic gadgets to communicate someone just to bully through sending frightening or threatening messages.

HACKING denotes to the exercise of adjusting or changing computer software and hardware to complete a goal that is considered to be outside of the creator's original objective. Hacking individuals who participate in computer hacking activities are known to as “hackers”.

PHISHING is the attempt to get delicate information like the usernames, passwords, and credit card details. ILLEGAL DOWNLOADING refers to getting files that you do not have the right to use from the Internet. DIGITAL PIRACY is the practice of copying and selling digital music, video, computer software illegally. IDENTITY THEFT refers to the deliberate use of someone else's identity, usually as a method to get a financial benefit or gain credit and other benefits in the other person's name.

CYBER DEFAMATION is a lowly false statement of fact that inclines to harm the name of a person or company

Types of Defamation:

1. Libel is a written method of defamation which is expressed by print, writing, pictures, dummies, signs or any other medium of communication embodied in physical form that is harmful to a person's reputation and or exposes a person to public hatred or contempt or harms a person in his/her profession or business.
2. Slander – also known as oral or spoken defamation, is the legal term for the act of harming a person's reputation whether in his/her profession or business by telling other people something that is not true that can damage that person.

CYBERSEX is also called computer sex, Internet sex, netsex • It is a virtual sex meeting in which two or more people send each other sexually clear contents or sexually clear acts. CHILD PORNOGRAPHY is a form of child sexual manipulation

CYBERSQUATTING is recording, trading in, or using an Internet domain name with bad faith intent to yield from the goodwill of a trademark belonging to someone else. The cybersquatter then offers to trade the domain to the person or company who owns a trademark confined within the name at an inflated price.

COPYRIGHT it means the right to copy. A person violating copyright commits plagiarism. PLAGIARISM happens when someone else's work is used by a different person and claimed as his or her own. This performance of stealing can be avoided by recognizing the source or the original maker through citations. INFRINGEMENT is the violation of a copyright. The exclusive rights of the copyright owner are subject to limitation by doctrine of "fair use". FAIR USE of copyrighted work for criticism, comment, news reporting, teaching, scholarship, or research is not copyright infringement. FAIR USE is a legal concept that allows copyrighted material to be reproduce without getting consent and without paying a fee. Review, news reporting, teaching, or scholarly research are some of the purposes that permits the application of fair use.

COMPUTER ADDICTION is the extreme use of computers to the degree that it affects with daily life. This extreme use may interfere with work or sleep, result in problems with social interaction, or affect mood, relationships and thought processes.

DIGITAL DIVIDE as the gaps in accessing to telephones, personal computers, and the internet across certain demographic groups. Different segments have different levels of access to digital developments due to a number of factors.

CYBERBULLYING, or BULLYING through electronic means, it is one of the many problems brought about by developments in technology. With the presence smartphones, tablets, laptops, and 24/7 access to internet, cyberbullying can occur to anyone, anywhere, and at any time. This may include exposing awkward content about someone or sending messages with the intention of hurting the receiver emotionally or mentally.

Examples of cyberbullying: text messages or emails composed to insult or demean; rumors or false statements spread by email or posted on social networking sites; and humiliating photos, videos, websites, or making fake profiles shared on social media.

NETIQUETTE or NETWORK ETIQUETTE is a set of rules for behaving properly online.

- It refers to the proper attitude that an individual should observe when interacting online.
- Is a combination of the words network and etiquette and it is defined as a set of rules for suitable online behavior.

The Core Rules of Netiquette
